Data analysis & Data insight

Our focus is on practical commercial value.

We are confident that our analysis will deliver an advantage to your business. We operate on a contingent fee basis - if we find no practical commercial value, then we charge NO FEE.

We can analyse all types of data; from transaction-level retail data, to information downloaded from manufacturing machinery. Our analysis could result in better-targeted and less costly marketing campaigns. Or it could provide conclusive proof for capital investment.

Accountancy

McNally Financial can:

- provide staff to help you prepare for statutory audit or due diligence.
- design & produce bespoke forecasting & budgeting computer programs & models.
- complete any ad hoc financial project as determined by management.

Why choose us?

In all services, McNally Financial combines scientific approach with financial awareness. We are focused on solving any problems you set.

Director Rob McNally is a chartered accountant and engineering graduate dedicated to providing you with a commercially-focussed and highly personal service.
